Modern Domainer Invites You To Show Your DOT COMs At Domainer Mardi Gras!

Austin, Texas – September 15, 2008 Modern Domainer announced today that it is hosting Domainer Mardi Gras, a one of a kind event that the industry will talk about for years to come. Domainer Mardi Gras will blend conference sessions on the hottest industry issues with the flavor and uniqueness of New Orleans' carnival.

Domainer Mardi Gras will take place Thursday, February 19, through Saturday, February 21, 2009 in New Orleans, Louisiana during the weekend before Mardi Gras at the Westin Canal Place.

“Domainer Mardi Gras will focus on the true meaning of being a domain names entrepreneur,” said Ezra James, Managing Editor of Modern Domainer. “With New Orleans as a backdrop, a city that knows what it means to rebound and adapt to a changing environment, Domainer Mardi Gras will focus on how to truly grow and lead in a dynamic industry. In addition, domain name professionals will have a once in a lifetime opportunity to experience New Orleans and partake in Mardi Gras festivities, including indulging in a traditional Louisiana crawfish boil, attending one of the many Mardi Gras parades and closing business deals while enjoying the sights and sounds of Bourbon Street.”

All domain name professionals are invited to Domainer Mardi Gras, including Domainers, Registrars, Registries, Advertisement Feed Providers, Domain Name Parking Companies, ICANN, investors, and others.

Early Bird Special conference passes are available through October 31, 2008 at the low rate of $695 USD. Modern Domainer has secured incredible hotel rates at the Westin Canal Place, but rooms will go fast so book early!
